

Host Page

---

Introduction

This project is a host page that reflects your identity and shows your past/previous assignments. I created one of these in web one and it has shown that I have come a long way in web two. What I will be creating is a one page document with images of the assignments and when you scroll over them either a modal will pop up with the picture of a screenshot of what the web page looks like or you will either scroll over it and a tooltip will show up with an image in it and then you click on the web page from there.

My host page will show what I can do and the style will reflect me as a designer. I hope to have color and have it be fun and simple at the same time. My logo will appear in it as that is a part of my identity.
