Client Brief Summary

Business Name: The Huemans

The purpose of the website is to connect local artists and art lovers with each other through the club. It will provide information about club events, and people will be able to share artwork on the website as well.

Features

- Virtual Gallery
- Events
- Forum for Discussions - Job Opportunities
- Newsletter

Website Success:

- A good stream of new art being shared on the site
- People showing up to the local meetups

User Personas

Christine, 19 year old local student
Heavily involved with social media

Needs:

Make connections within the local art community
Learn about different careers in the arts

Frustrations:

Discouragement from relatives on being an artist professionally
Has a small art account on social media that is difficult to grow a following with

Goals:

Have her art seen by more people

Kyle
36 year old Tattoo artist
Draws many of his own tattoo designs

Needs:

An creative place dedicated to creatives (has two kids at home, so he doesn't get as much peace and quiet to create)

Frustrations:

Managing his business can be really stressful and time consuming
Feels like he's in a rut, doesn't get to customize and use his creativity as much at work

Goals:

Make money doing illustrations, not just tattoos

Wants to make a graphic novel

Sarah - A retired English Teacher, paints and makes jewelry as a hobby

Needs:

A place to spend time with people with similar interests

Frustrations:

Misses teaching

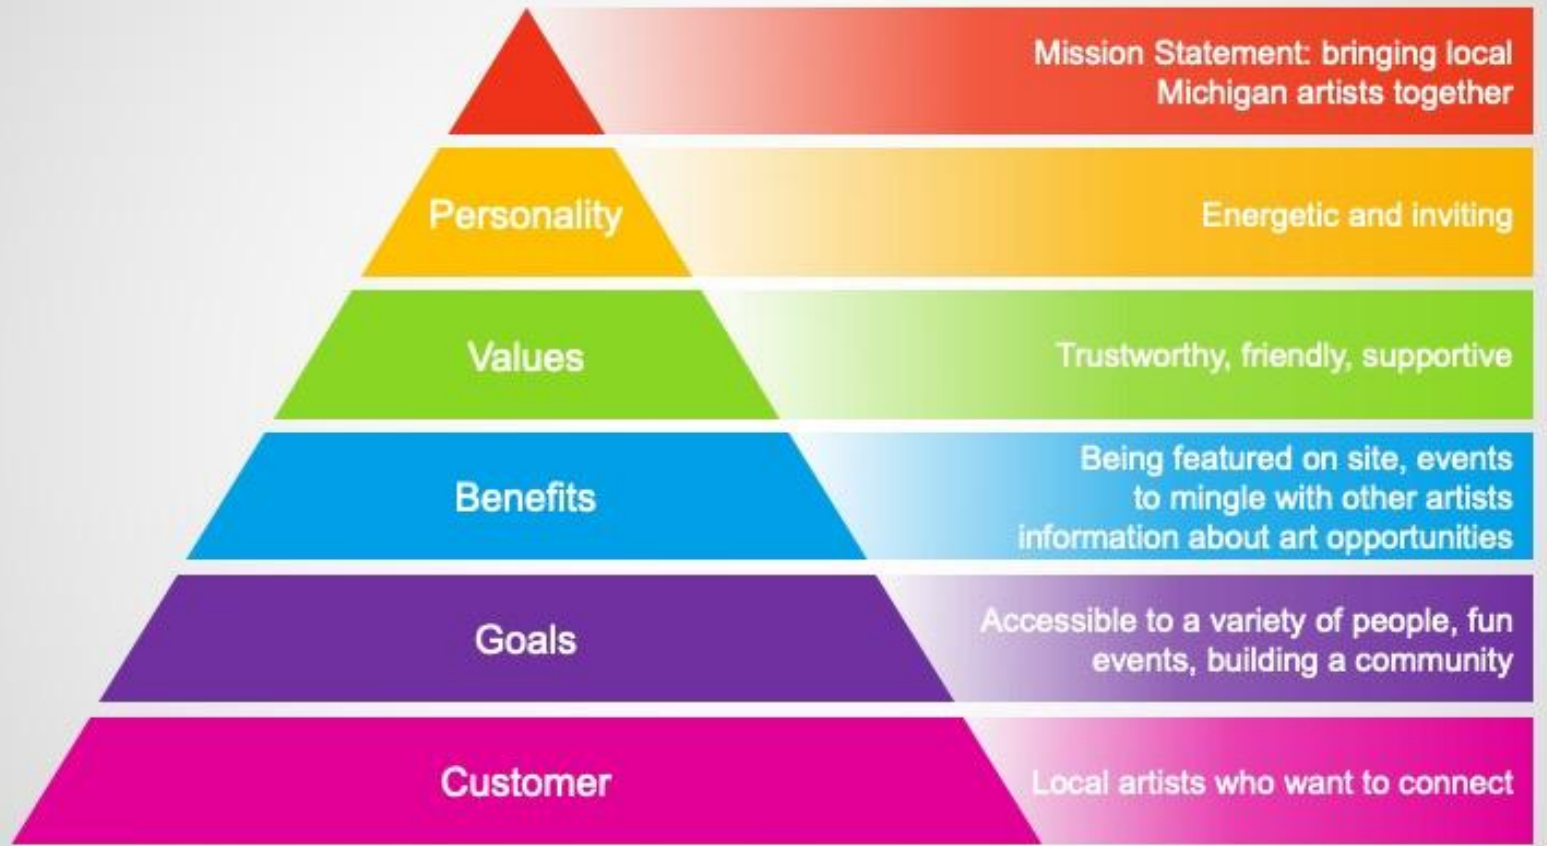

Not quite good enough for the juried shows, has to get accepted (booth shows)

Feels stuck, wants workshops and inspiration

Goals:

Share the paintings she's created at home

Share advice about her experiences

User Summary

The website users are:

- Artists of all different ages (18 and older)
- Art lovers
- New artists (students or self taught)

Reflection

As The Client:

It was fun being the client. I got to put in my own design taste into the branding, while not being one hundred percent responsible for the execution of the website layout. It is hard to not try and design the whole thing because that is what I am used to. I enjoy coming up with logos, graphics, and planning things like that out, but I gave the designer, Natalie, some creative liberty because it is fun to get others' opinions and input to take the design to the next level. I also think it was hard to put myself in the perspective of a business owner who owns a bike shop, because I personally don't have a lot of knowledge about bikes and biking. But the concept was really fun and overall I enjoyed the process.

As The Designer:

I also enjoyed being the designer and working with my client, Kristen, on the vision for the website. The style for the website was clean and fun, so it did not stray from my typical design style. Things went smoothly with my client which was great! I think the hardest part for me was thoroughly tackling all the website features. I had to figure out how to put them all in. The events and Gallery came to me very easily, but the forum and the newsletter were a little tougher to fit into the wireframe. Overall I think the process went really well.

Final thoughts:

In some ways, I enjoy being the designer because I get a guide to what the branding should look like, and I get to use my creative/graphic design skills to come up with the visual design. In other ways I enjoy being the client more, because I can come up with an idea of what I want the website to look like, but collaborate and trust the designer to provide the functionality for my ideas.
